(Note: Dependency rules for financial aid are different than income tax filing status. Individuals born before January 1, 1988 are independent based on age. Independent students do not have to report information about parents. Individuals born after January 1, 1988, are dependent students unless married or have children they support more than 50%. Several other situations will allow a dependent student to be treated as independent for financial aid purposes. If you have questions about whether you are a dependent student, contact the Financial Aid Office.)
